With conservation and eco-tourism at its roots, Great Plains Conservation offers a collection of luxurious lodges for a truly unforgettable top-end safari. The Zarafa and Selinda camps are situated in the 320,000-acre private Selinda Reserve, a prime safari destination, whilst Duba Plains and Duba Explorers are located in another exclusive concession near the base of the Okavango Delta's panhandle. Also featured is Selinda Explorers Camp, where guests can enjoy excellent walking and canoeing safaris along the Selinda Spillway.

To make the most of your visit to this sensationally wild region of Botswana, we highly recommend mixing and matching camps. This will provide the best wildlife viewing opportunities as well as the ability to experience the distinct personalities of Great Plains Conservation's amazing properties.

DUBA PLAINS CAMP

Okavango

Inspired by African safaris in the 1920s, the 5-tent Duba Plains Camp offers vintage charm, modern luxury and a breathtaking location on a private concession often compared to Kenya's Masai Mara for sheer volume of wildlife. There is also a 2-bedroom villa available for groups or families. Expect magnificent bathrooms, private plunge pools and eco-friendly climate control at this camp.

DUBA EXPLORERS CAMP

Okavango

The setting for many famous wildlife documentaries, Duba Explorers is situated in a classic delta landscape of islands, floodplains and woodland. The camp's 5 airy, expedition-style guest tents boast authentic campaign furniture, canopied beds, pedestal fans and personal verandas. A sublime position amid a diversity of unspoilt habitats all but guarantees extraordinary animal sightings.

SELINDA CAMP

Linyanti

This brand new and exquisite camp overlooks the Selinda Spillway, a seasonal waterway that links the Okavango Delta with the wildlife-rich Linyanti wetlands. This intimate camp will feature just 4 tents, including a two-bedroom villa, that all feature large private verandas and plunge pools. Activities include morning/afternoon game drives, boating (when water levels permit) and guided bush walks.

SELINDA EXPLORERS CAMP

Linyanti

Small but sensational, Selinda Explorers Camp boasts an unrivalled location beside the Selinda Spillway about 1.5 hours from Selinda Camp. The 4 guest tents (including a two-bedroom family unit) rekindle the magic of bygone explorations, with their antique chests, copper handbasins and open-air showers. Walking and canoeing are the main activities, with game drives also possible.

ZARAFI CAMP & THE DHOW SUITES

Linyanti

Zarafa offers a gameviewing experience few other places in Africa can match, with zero compromise on comfort. There are 4 lavish tented suites at this exclusive camp, plus a two-bedroom villa known as The Dhow Suite. Botswana's first Relais & Chateaux property, Zarafa provides every luxury a traveller might require whilst leaving the lightest possible footprint on its surrounding environment.
