The otherworldly Northern Lights are one of Canada's winter drawcards. The pristine wilderness surrounding the Yukon capital of Whitehorse and the remote Northwest Territories settlement of Yellowknife are amongst the best places in the country to view this phenomenon. Our featured lodges all offer visitors the opportunity to experience the magic of Aurora Borealis in magnificent natural environments, whilst enjoying premium accommodation, delectable cuisine and thrilling excursions across snowy terrain inhabited by iconic Canadian wildlife.

“The Northern Lights were definitely the highlight. The fact that Blachford Lake Lodge was so remote meant there was no light pollution to ruin our chances of seeing them. The food was also incredible every single day, and the hot tub was great to relax with a drink.”

BLACHFORD LAKE LODGE (NT)

Departs Sundays 22 Dec 2019 - 12 Apr 2020

Perched on a knoll overlooking its namesake lake, this isolated retreat is a 25 minute flight from Yellowknife, a long way from civilisation in Canada's Northwest Territories. Yet, there are luxuries such as hot water showers, eco bathrooms and even a hot tub. The 5 guestrooms and 5 log cabins offer views of Aurora. You can also view the light show from two shared viewing decks or the shores of Blachford Lake – the property's location under the Aurora Oval guarantees front-row seats.

SOUTHERN LAKES RESORT (YT)

Departs daily 18 Nov 2019 - 12 Apr 2020

Situated on a tranquil arm of Tagish Lake amid unspoilt boreal forest, the lakefront cabins at this intimate resort have ensuite bathrooms, propane heating stoves and large panoramic windows for water views by day and Aurora after dark. Follow your guide to the Northern Lights viewing site for tips on night-time photography. Daytime activities (additional cost) include learning to mush with professional dog-sledders and snowshoeing over the frozen landscape. The restaurant offers delicious seasonal cuisine.

INN ON THE LAKE (YT)

Departs daily 01 Dec 2019 - 07 Apr 2020

This is another rare property which allows guests to see Aurora from the comfort of their suite. Situated on the shores of Marsh Lake, this impressive spruce-hewn lodge epitomises rustic chic with plenty of exposed timbers and stacked stone. With a range of accommodation from guestrooms to self-contained apartments, Inn on the Lake is also renowned for inspired fare, showcasing local ingredients such as boreal berries or sockeye salmon. The menu changes daily, with 3-course dinners every night.

NORTHERN LIGHTS RESORT & SPA (YT)

Departs daily 01 Sep 2019 - 06 Apr 2020

The 4 comfortable log cabins and 3 unique glass chalets at this peaceful property are surrounded by mountains, pine forest and open countryside untouched by city lights. Aside from Aurora viewing, this charming resort offers activities (extra cost) including dog-sledding, ice fishing and snowmobiling. After a big day outdoors, guests can warm up in the open-air hot tub or in the Finnish and infra-red sauna. Tuck into hearty, healthy meals and Canadian wines at the cosy licensed restaurant.
